

Zurich Builders Risk: Product & Policy Tips

February 2026

Jaclyn,

This month's newsletter for course of construction professionals is packed with claim lessons learned from our SVP, Head of Product Underwriting, policy iteration training from our Director of Producer Training and Development, premium cost insights and more to help you serve clients with confidence.

Claim Story: Occupancy Error

Discover how the policyholder's tenant occupancy decision led to a denied claim following a total fire loss.

> Watch or read now

How Quote Iterations Work

Need to create several versions of a builders risk quote? Get helpful hints and see how it's done in our policy issuance platform.

> Watch or read now

Recent Account Feature

$2.1M fire station | joisted masonry remodel | Miami, FL

Fact Sheet: What's Driving Premium

Get a breakdown of recent economic and environmental factors currently affecting builders risk premiums to guide client conversations.

> Read now

Terminology Spotlight — Ordinance or Law Coverage

This coverage is automatic for eligible residential and commercial new construction and renovation projects when the existing structure is excluded. The endorsement provides additional coverage when local building codes or laws affect a construction project after a covered loss.

Zurich Builders Risk Remodeling Training

30 Minutes | March 17 or 18 | 11 a.m. or 2 p.m. ET

Don't miss tips to insure 2026's hottest residential and commercial renovations.

> Find out more